

Australasian Society for Breast Disease Seventh Scientific Meeting

1-3 October 2009

Surfers Paradise Marriott Resort,
Gold Coast, Queensland, Australia

REGISTRATION BROCHURE

INVITATION

On behalf of the Australasian Society for Breast Disease, I am delighted to invite you to our Seventh Scientific Meeting. This Meeting is designed to advance your knowledge in the areas of the latest techniques of investigation and management of breast disease. As our core educational activity the Meeting will again have a strong multidisciplinary emphasis.

In addition, the Scientific Meeting provides an important forum for professional and social interaction between delegates from the various disciplines.

The noted international speakers and local expert faculty will together provide plenty of interest and we expect all disciplines to be strongly represented at this event.

Robin Stuart-Harris
President

About the Australasian Society for Breast Disease

The Australasian Society for Breast Disease was constituted in 1997. Its primary goal is to promote multidisciplinary understanding and practice in the prevention, detection, diagnosis and management of breast disease and research into this area of medicine.

The Society has a nine-member Executive plus several co-opted members, providing for broad multidisciplinary representation.

The Society thanks current members for their support and involvement and welcomes new members from all disciplines involved in the area of breast disease. You can download a membership application form from our website: www.asbd.org.au or contact the Secretariat.

Sponsors

The Australasian Society for Breast Disease is grateful to the Meeting sponsors for their support.

Platinum sponsor

As one of the world's leading pharmaceutical companies, AstraZeneca is engaged in the research, development, manufacture, and supply of medicines that make a difference for patients in important areas of healthcare.

AstraZeneca excels in providing healthcare solutions designed to fight diseases in seven major therapeutic areas including cardiovascular, neuroscience, gastrointestinal, infection, oncology, anaesthesia (including pain management) and respiratory products. Locally, AstraZeneca has spent over $250 million over the last decade on R&D, and is currently involved in over 50 clinical trials at over 200 sites across Australia.

AstraZeneca's Sydney manufacturing facility is a key part of the global manufacturing network, employing more than 500 people and providing niche products to 37 international markets.

Globally, the Company spends more than $16 million every working day on R&D, with more than 13,000 researchers dedicated to the discovery and development of innovative new medicines that meet the needs of patients worldwide. AstraZeneca believes that it has a global responsibility to its customers and the communities they live in.

Through financial support and representation, AstraZeneca recognises the work and commitment of patient care and advocacy groups. These important partnerships are central to our commitment to improve the quality of people's lives.

AstraZeneca Australia also has a proud history of supporting the local community. Since 2005, AstraZeneca's support has assisted Redkite in providing children and their families battling with childhood cancer; with fundamental services, both financial and emotional.

Every day, more than 1.5 million Australians benefit from AstraZeneca medicines.

Gold sponsor

Novartis Oncology provides a range of innovative therapies and practical solutions that aim to improve and extend the lives of cancer patients. We aspire to develop new medicines that will transform the way cancer is treated, and are therefore committed to ongoing research and development in Australia and New Zealand.

Keynote speakers

Prof Fiona J Gilbert MBChB, DMRD, FRCP, FRCR

Fiona Gilbert qualified in medicine from the University of Glasgow in 1978. She was appointed consultant radiologist in 1989 in Aberdeen, running the breast screening programme and symptomatic breast services. In 1996, she was appointed Roland Sutton Chair of Radiology, University of Aberdeen and Head of Department. Professor Gilbert's research is focussed on breast, oncology and musculo-skeletal imaging. She heads the MRI research programme and is leader of the University Imaging programme. She is vice-chair of the Royal College of Radiologists Breast Group, member of the NCRN breast focus group and co-lead of the NCR PET research development group. Professor Gilbert referees for Radiology and the Breast and referees grant applications for Chief Scientist's Office, Cancer Research UK and other funding bodies. She is a member of the MRC panel of experts and Academic Role model for the British Medical Association. She has grants from the HTA, MRC, CRUK and CSO.

Prof Daniel F Hayes MD

Daniel Hayes is the Clinical Director of the Breast Oncology Program at the University of Michigan Comprehensive Cancer Center (UM CCC), where he is also Professor of Internal Medicine. He received his MD from the Indiana University School of Medicine in 1979. Professor Hayes served a fellowship in medical oncology from 1982–1985 at Harvard's Dana Farber Cancer Institute, in Boston. In 1992, he assumed the role of Medical Director of the Breast Evaluation Center at DFCI. In 1996 he moved to the Georgetown University Lombardi Cancer Center. In 2001, Professor Hayes joined the UM CCC where continues clinical work and research in translational science. With his long-time colleague, Donald Kufe, Professor Hayes published the first reports concerning the development of the CA15-3 blood test, now used worldwide as a useful tumour marker for breast cancer. He is an internationally recognized leader in the use of this and other tumour markers. In 2007, he was awarded the American Society of Clinical Oncology's (ASCO) Gianni Bonadonna Breast Cancer Award. Professor Hayes is Chair of the Breast Cancer Translational Medicine Committee of the Southwest Oncology Group (SWOG), Chair of the Correlative Sciences Committee of the U.S. Breast Cancer Intergroup, and co-chairs the Expert Panel for Tumor Marker Practice Guidelines for the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO).
